

Gin List

Bewdley Brewery Element 45%

Distilled from the Wort of 'Sir Keith Park' This London Dry Gin is citrus led with the 1st hit of juniper softened with coriander seeds. The lynch pin is a combination of 3 type of citrus followed by macadamia nuts and bay leaves.

Taking inspiration from a traditional style of slightly sweetened gin enjoyed in 18th and 19th century England.

Brighton Gin 40%

A handmade gin, crafted in small batches. Made using organic British grain, the botanicals include coriander seed, juniper berries, lime peel, milk thistle and orange; making this a gin that boasts a sweet fresh citrus taste with a hint of spice. Serving with a slice of orange helps bring out the fresh orange peel botanical, which is persistent throughout Brighton Gin.

Colonial Pinkster 37.5%

Hand-steeped in locally sourced raspberries to give a unique fruity character. A selection of five botanicals are used to create Pinkster Gin, before being bottled to a smooth finish.

Hintons Regatta, 42%

Produced locally in Bewdley, Regatta Gin has subtle notes of Strawberry, Mint & Cucumber. Hintons recommend serving with an Elderflower Tonic.

Langley's Old Tom Gin 40%

Based on an 1891 recipe and brings together eight botanicals. A nose of juniper and orange essence with a touch of tangerine. The palate is a slow kick of juniper, fennel, nutmeg, lemon peel and coriander develops to a smooth, soft, sweetened finish that lingers.

More botanically intense and sweeter than a London Dry.

Rutte Celery Dry Gin 43%

A softly spicy gin that keeps the savoury umami of celery at its core without it overshadowing the other botanicals. Distilled with juniper, celery, coriander, angelica root, sweet orange peel and cardamom. Subtle floral notes with juniper, coriander and cardamom. Light herbaceous notes of mint, parsley and celery. Zesty and fresh with some anise. Clean pleasant mouth feel with some perceived saltiness.

Tarquins The Seadog Navy Strength 57%

From the Cornwall based Southwestern distillery. Distilled in their famous Spanish pot still which is heated from an old paella burner. The strength historically drunk by the Royal Navy. "World's Best Gin" San Fransisco World Spirits Competition 2017.

The juniper is vivid and violent, punching the drinker across the chops with a swift, pine hit. It's crazy strong, but joined very quickly by a spiky cinnamon. Rich, rooty and cheek filling, the gin has a wonderful viscosity..

The Botanist Islay Dry Gin 46%

A huge 31 botanicals go into The Botanist, including some native to Islay. The list of botanicals includes less common items such as: apple mint, birch leaves, bog myrtle leaves, cassia bark, chamomile, cinnamon bark, creeping thistle flowers, mugwort leaves, red clover flowers, tansy, and wood sage leaves. Has received 3 major 2019 awards.
